

Peter Evans

As Executive Vice President, Peter Evans is responsible for all new sales and business development efforts at InsureMyTrip. He manages all of InsureMyTrip's relationships with the leading insurance providers and works strategically to identify new providers and product opportunities in the marketplace. His leadership efforts have propelled InsureMyTrip into the world's leading travel insurance comparison site and help position the company for long term growth.

Evans is an industry expert with over 30 years of insurance industry experience. As an accomplished insurance broker, Evans has a strong foundation in both the property and casualty and life and health fields. He has a keen understanding of consumer trends and in-depth knowledge of provider capabilities and products.

Evans began his leadership role at IMT in 2001. He holds a bachelor's degree in political science from the Ithaca College. He is married with a son.